

Protection and Regulatory Compliance

State-of-the-art integrated defenses

Cybercriminals' attacks on your network are getting more frequent and sophisticated by the day. In addition to targeting your technical protections, they're trying to trick your employees into simply handing over sensitive communications, financial information, and client records. And if they succeed, your business will pay the price—not just in lost data, but in penalties for noncompliance with relevant laws, regulations, and due diligence requirements. To thwart their plans, you need continuously updated layers of security that work seamlessly together, protecting your data from multiple angles of attack, and maintaining all necessary levels of compliance.

Comprehensive, compliant protection

Xantrion's Managed Security Service ensures the security of your systems and data with a combination of continuous threat monitoring, constantly updated technical safeguards, and regular employee training. Our hosted servers and applications, internal security, and business continuity processes all comply with current best practices, as verified by our SOC 2 Type II security certification. And because we map our security controls to common regulations like PCI, HIPAA, FINRA, SOX, and many more, we make it easy to prove ongoing compliance even as requirements change.
